2006 CIRRUS SR-22 (TN) SE | S/N 2121

AIRCRAFT OVERVIEW

This 2006 Cirrus SR-22T Special Signature Edition (#7 of 50) is a standout in the market, featuring capabilities typically found in much newer models—at a fraction of the cost. With only 1,468 total flight hours, meticulous maintenance, and storage in a climate-controlled hangar, this aircraft is in pristine condition. A comprehensive 2021 avionics upgrade has equipped it with dual Garmin 500-Txi touch screens, Garmin 750 and 650 GPS systems, and Garmin 345R ADS-B in/out, making it one of the most technologically advanced in its class. Powered by a Tornado Alley Turbonormalized engine, it's capable of reaching altitudes of up to 25,000 feet with built-in Precise Fixed Oxygen and FIKI Ice Protection. Whether you're navigating challenging weather or enjoying cross-country journeys, this aircraft delivers unmatched reliability, comfort, and ease of flying. Ready for its next adventure, this SR-22T is an unbeatable value at $400,000, offering top-tier performance and advanced features at a price far below comparable models.
